Roger,

Yazoo County has never been part of Lawrence Co. It was created from Indian lands in the early 1820s, a few years after Mississippi was given statehood (1817). James Hogan Bull lived in Lawrence Co. when he acquired his first land in Yazoo Co. The part of Lawrence Co. where he (originally) settled became part of Lincoln Co. in 1870.

I do not have my records with me, but I am almost positive that James Hogan is buried in the Bull Cemetery in Yazoo Co. I will check with John Bull, who lives in the old Bull house across the road from the cemetery. I may even try to get a picture of his gravestone for you. Nina Pepper, now deceased, inventoried the Bull Cemetery -- and published the results in a Mississippi Genealogical Society publication. I had a photocopy that I made in the State Archives. The Bible records are also in the Archives in Jackson.

Keep up your good work.

Jack

Roger,

Maybe I can put to rest the vicinity debate about James Hogan Bull. James Hogan was born in Craven Co., NC; moved first to GA; then to Lawrence Co., MS; and then to Yazoo Co., MS where he remained until his death. He is buried in the Bull Cemetery across the highway from his home.

There was no break in the ownership of his property during his life time, and much of it is still owned by members of the family. I am a licensed engineer and provided some engineering service for John E. Bull, Sr. (whose son, John Jr. and his daughter, Susie, still live on the home place) and rode over much of his property while planning drainage ditches. Unless someone can find definite proof of any moves he made after settling in Yazoo Co., I feel it is safe to conclude that he did not leave for Arkansas. Of course, we know that he had a son and a brother that moved to AR, but he had large land holdings in Yazoo Co., so would have had no reason to move.

There have been several descendants named for James Hogan Bull. This could have contributed to the confusion about any moving to Arkansas.

My Samuel Pepper, the father of Zedekiah (who married Sarah/"Sally" Bull, daughter of James Hogan Bull), settled in Lawrence Co., MS about the same time that James Hogan Bull settled. Since Zedekiah and Sally married in Lawrence Co., I assume the families lived near each other. Samuel (and a number of his descendants are buried in the Pepper Cemetery in Lawrence Co. -- in the area that became Lincoln Co. in 1870). JH Bull was supposed to have been the first postmaster of "Old Brook." Samuel's land grant was located near Brookhaven, MS. Numerous descendants still live in that area. Some of his sons moved to Arkansas prior to the Civil War, and Zedekiah was the only one that moved to Yazoo Co., MS. where he received several tracts of land within a few miles of his father-in-law, James Hogan Bull. Zedekiah and Sally had twelve children -- all of them remained in Yazoo Co. during their lifetimes.

As for Nina Pepper's record, I worked very closely with her during her later years, and had access to all of her research. She was very active in DAR (joined through Ambrose Bull, and I believe was the one that had his service approved), and had numerous records (cemetery and bible records) deposited in the MS State Archives. Most of them in publications of the Mississippi Genealogical Society. Nina and I were members of the same church and I saw her regularly for many years. We kept each other informed about any new research.

About the confusion about where JH Bull lived in MS, he came to MS, before it became a State in 1817, and settled near Brookhaven, when it was in Lawrence Co. (in part that became Lincoln Co. in 1870). The central and northern part of MS was acquired by Indian treaties after it became a State. Hinds Co. was created from a large portion of the central part, then Yazoo Co. was created from most of the undeveloped lands in that county. Later Yazoo was divided into several counties, but James Hogan's land always remained in Yazoo Co. (about 100 miles north of his home in Lawrence Co.) as it is today.

Just for the record, I was born and raised in Yazoo City in Yazoo Co., MS. After WW II, I married and lived in the eastern part of that county (not far from the Bull property) for 40 years, and passed the Bull home regularly. I know John Jr. and Susie Bull very well. Susie has been a librarian in the city library in Yazoo City and John farmed the old Bull plantation (and maintains the cemetery). I have been living in Jackson for 15 years, so do not see John and Susie as often. I believe he has retired from farming (rents out the farm land).

Keep up the good work. We are fortunate to have a number of researchers interested in this family.

1/3/04 - Oh, Roger - - how I wished for you to be with Pat and myself today!! You would have enjoyed walking on the grounds of your ancestors, Ambrose Bull, his wife - Eliza and their son. The Bull Creek property is now owned by a fine old gentleman by the name of Eddie Mazanec, Jr. who is quite well versed on the history of the area. He gave us a guided tour of the part of his ranch that covers the Mohler Cemetery and Bull Springs and even has the house that was near the Bull Springs, now moved to his home site and is used for a very nice looking barn.

Mr. Mazanec is in the construction business and has his main home in Waco, Texas. He and his son have brought the cemetery back from a brush and cedar covered mess to a very peaceful resting place for many of your ancestors. He has it fenced but it is evident that deer and other wildlife are frequent visitors to the cemetery. Bull Creek is a very beautiful little creek which is fed by many springs and one of those springs was behind the house where Ambrose and his family lived. There is still the remains of a spring well in the main spring pool. This is where the Bulls kept their milk, butter and other perishables to keep them cool. (In other words their refrigerator.) Beside the spring well there is one of the largest oak trees that I have ever had the pleasure of seeing.

We have taken three 24 count rolls of film and will be sending the pictures to you as soon as they are developed. We took photos of all the grave stones in this fair sized cemetery and Pat wrote down all the information which I will transcribe and forward to you. I have Mr. Mazanec's telephone numbers and address and he would be happy to discuss any of this with you should you wish to contact him. He is a 5 year survivor of heart transplant and is a joy to talk to. He said that a person by the name of Jimmy Wigley from Star, Texas came there recently and wanted to visit the cemetery and said that he is a descendent of Ambrose Bull. Star is in Mills County near Hamilton. Do you have this person in your records?

Mr. Mazanec had a story regarding the death of Benjamin Bull, son of Ambrose and Eliza. As the story goes, Ambrose was going on a cattle drive and wanted Benjamin to go with him and help. Eliza told Ambrose that Benjamin was too sick to go on the drive with him but Ambrose insisted. While they were on the cattle drive Benjamin died at the age of 22. Mr. Masonic pointed out an obelisk, about 3 or 4 feet tall that is leaning against a cedar tree adjacent to Benjamin's grave. After researching it was learned that Ambrose bought the obelisk to add to the top of Benjamin's grave stone to make it taller than any other in the cemetery however, Ambrose died before he could get the stone placed and bolted on top of the grave stone. Mr. Mazanec said the it is his intention to bring some equipment to the cemetery and finish the job for Ambrose.

I will be forwarding the names and inscriptions tomorrow. Should you have questions just yell at me! RmD

Oh my goodness, Rosemary!

How wonderful you and Pat are. Mr. Mazanec sounds like a nice southern gentleman to whom anyone would have the pleasure to meet. I cannot express my deepest feelings of joy, gratitude and heartfelt pleasure that all of you make me experience.

I know that many old timers considered their grand children as their children. Ben E. Bull was the son of Samuel M. Bull and Emily Nell Booth Bull (also, the brother of Charles Edward Bull, Abe Lincoln impersonator). Sam Bull was a son of Ambrose and Eliza Jane....

Do you know if Mr. Mazanec has internet and email connections? I'd love to correspond with him and provide him with additional information for his tours.... Please do send his address. I'll snail mail him if I have to.

Looking forward to the pictures that yall have taken of the Bull Springs area and the Mohler Cemetery. Your depiction of the trip is colorful, educational, enjoyable and well done, Rosemary!

Love you, Cousin!!!

Woops! I checked the tombstone inscriptions and it does show "Benjamin - Son of S.M. & E. Bull, Born 3-6-1877; Died 7-19-1899. He is buried next to Ambrose and Eliza is then on the left of Ambrose.

We got our directions from the Goldthwaite Museum, Mr. Wayne Wilcox. We just by chance noticed the museum and decided that would be a good place to inquire. I have never met people who were more willing to help. Bull Creek is a landmark in the area and Mr Wilcox got on the telephone and within 10 minutes had us on the right road and in touch with Mr. Mazanec. This is a rather large cemetery to be found on private property. Other than the Bull home location, I saw no other buildings or ruins of same. So where did all these folks come from to be buried in this place that appears to be far from any other city or community?

We thoroughly enjoyed every minute of the journey and I know that you would simply be elated to walk on your ancestor's grounds.

I have Mr. Mazanec's business card and will forward a copy to you in the AM. He apparently does not have internet service. He is in the construction business out of Waco. He showed us copies of information that a friend gave him which was taken from the internet and was titled "Joy-Mohler Cemetery". It covered all those persons buried there. I havent tried to bring that site up and you may want to try it @ Joy-Mohler Cemetery

1/3/04 - Oh, Roger - - how I wished for you to be with Pat and myself today!! You would have enjoyed walking on the grounds of your ancestors, Ambrose Bull, his wife - Eliza and their son. The Bull Creek property is now owned by a fine old gentleman by the name of Eddie Mazanec, Jr. who is quite well versed on the history of the area. He gave us a guided tour of the part of his ranch that covers the Mohler Cemetery and Bull Springs and even has the house that was near the Bull Springs, now moved to his home site and is used for a very nice looking barn.

Mr. Mazanec is in the construction business and has his main home in Waco, Texas. He and his son have brought the cemetery back from a brush and cedar covered mess to a very peaceful resting place for many of your ancestors. He has it fenced but it is evident that deer and other wildlife are frequent visitors to the cemetery. Bull Creek is a very beautiful little creek which is fed by many springs and one of those springs was behind the house where Ambrose and his family lived. There is still the remains of a spring well in the main spring pool. This is where the Bulls kept their milk, butter and other perishables to keep them cool. (In other words their refrigerator.) Beside the spring well there is one of the largest oak trees that I have ever had the pleasure of seeing.

We have taken three 24 count rolls of film and will be sending the pictures to you as soon as they are developed. We took photos of all the grave stones in this fair sized cemetery and Pat wrote down all the information which I will transcribe and forward to you. I have Mr. Mazanec's telephone numbers and address and he would be happy to discuss any of this with you should you wish to contact him. He is a 5 year survivor of heart transplant and is a joy to talk to. He said that a person by the name of Jimmy Wigley from Star, Texas came there recently and wanted to visit the cemetery and said that he is a descendent of Ambrose Bull. Star is in Mills County near Hamilton. Do you have this person in your records?

Mr. Mazanec had a story regarding the death of Benjamin Bull, son of Ambrose and Eliza. As the story goes, Ambrose was going on a cattle drive and wanted Benjamin to go with him and help. Eliza told Ambrose that Benjamin was too sick to go on the drive with him but Ambrose insisted. While they were on the cattle drive Benjamin died at the age of 22. Mr. Masonic pointed out an obelisk, about 3 or 4 feet tall that is leaning against a cedar tree adjacent to Benjamin's grave. After researching it was learned that Ambrose bought the obelisk to add to the top of Benjamin's grave stone to make it taller than any other in the cemetery however, Ambrose died before he could get the stone placed and bolted on top of the grave stone. Mr. Mazanec said the it is his intention to bring some equipment to the cemetery and finish the job for Ambrose.

I will be forwarding the names and inscriptions tomorrow. Should you have questions just yell at me! RmD

Oh my goodness, Rosemary!

How wonderful you and Pat are. Mr. Mazanec sounds like a nice southern gentleman to whom anyone would have the pleasure to meet. I cannot express my deepest feelings of joy, gratitude and heartfelt pleasure that all of you make me experience.

I know that many old timers considered their grand children as their children. Ben E. Bull was the son of Samuel M. Bull and Emily Nell Booth Bull (also, the brother of Charles Edward Bull, Abe Lincoln impersonator). Sam Bull was a son of Ambrose and Eliza Jane...:

Do you know if Mr. Mazanec has internet and email connections? I'd love to correspond with him and provide him with additional information for his tours.... Please do send his address. I'll snail mail him if I have to.

Looking forward to the pictures that yall have taken of the Bull Springs area and the Mohler Cemetery. Your depiction of the trip is colorful, educational, enjoyable and well done, Rosemary!

Love you, Cousin!!!

Roger

Whoops! I checked the tombstone inscriptions and it does show "Benjamine - Son of S.M. &E. Bull, Born 3-6-1877; Died 7-19-1899. He is buried next to Ambrose and Eliza is then on the left of Ambrose.

We got our directions from the Goldthwaite Museum, Mr. Wayne Wilcox. We just by chance noticed the museum and decided that would be a good place to inquire. I have never met people who were more willing to help. Bull Creek is a landmark in the area and Mr Wilcox got on the telephone and within 10 minutes had us on the right road and in touch with Mr. Mazanec. This is a rather large cemetery to be found on private property. Other than the Bull home location, I saw no other buildings or ruins of same. So where did all these folks come from to be buried in this place that appears to be far from any other city or community?

We thoroughly enjoyed every minute of the journey and I know that you would simply be elated to walk on your ancestor's grounds.

I have Mr. Mazanec's business card and will forward a copy to you in the AM. He apparently does not have internet service. He is in the construction business out of Waco. He showed us copies of information that a friend gave him which was taken from the internet and was titled "Joy-Mohler Cemetery". It covered all those persons buried there. I haven't tried to bring that site up and you may want to try it @ Joy-Mohler Cemetery

5. JAMES CAMPBELL⁵ BULL (JAMES HOGAN⁴, AMBROSE³, ROBERT², THOMAS SR.¹) was born January 17, 1811 in Jasper County, Ga, and died December 10, 1892 in Benton, Yazoo County, Mississippi. He met LYDIA KING

January 23, 1833 in Lawrence County, Mississippi, daughter of DAVID KING and MARY CAMPBELL. She was born September 18, 1811, and died July 25, 1850 in Benton, Yazoo County, Mississippi.

Notes for JAMES CAMPBELL BULL:

The following is an account of James Campbell Bull by the Yazoo Historical Association, from the "Yazoo County Story." Thanks goes to John Ezell of the Yazoo Library Association's B.S. Ricks Memorial Library for providing this informative data!

J. C. BULL

"J. C. Bull began cultivating a plantation in Yazoo County in 1833 and was joined by his family the next year. He was born in Jasper County, Georgia, on Jan. 16, 1811, the son of James H. and Frelove (Campbell) Bull.

"The family had settled in Lawrence County, Miss. in 1817 and it was there the J. C. Bull married Lydia King. Their children were David King, James Hogan and Mary.

"The mother of these children died in 1850 and Mr. Bull married Mercy Ogden in 1859. At the time of the Civil War his land holdings totaled 3,000 acres.

"Mr. Bull was a Baptist for 50 years and was highly respected by the community.

THE BULL GRAVEYARD

"One of the earliest cemeteries in eastern Yazoo County is the Bull Graveyard, located a few miles east of Benton on the Canton road.

"The first marked grave in this enclosure indicates that burials were made there as early as 1832.

"The original six-foot-high enclosure was made from slave-molded bricks. There was space for 144 graves, most of which were filled by descendants of James Hogan and Frelove (Campbell) Bull. Names include Bull, Campbell, Ledbetter, Exum and Moore.

"Some graves are of friends rather than relatives. An unidentified Confederate soldier is buried just outside the enclosure, as are several other unidentified persons. On the drop of the hill outside the enclosure are the graves of slaves and some of their descendants.

"Heavy rains caused the original bricks to topple in 1955 and they were removed to make way for a cast iron fence.

"Many of the epitaphs are interesting and there are carvings on several of the stones. One shows a father bowed in grief at the death of the mother of his children.

THE DIXON FAMILY

"Two brothers, Samuel Zederman Dixon and Elijah Dixon, came to Yazoo County in 1830 from N. Carolina and settled near Vaughan.

"Elijah married Frances Watlington, daughter of Julius A. Watlington and Elizabeth Hall Watlington. This family moved to Texas where a son, Royal Dixon, naturalist, author and lecturer, was born.

"Samuel married Lovey Pepper, daughter of Zedekiah and Sarah Bull Pepper. Their children were Elenora, Sarah, Susan, Edward Shipley, Mary Jane, Samuel James, Alice Medora, Emeline F., Ralph, Louella, and William.

"Of the children, four have descendants living in the Yazoo area. Edward Shipley Dixon married Aurora Stubblefield, daughter of William Henry and Mary S. Stubblefield. Their children were Nellie, Mary, Ralph and Benjamin.

"Samuel James married Sallie Frances Fisher, daughter of Elias and Suzanna U. Hall Fisher. Children of Samuel and his wife were Mabel Clare, Susie Ernestine, Garnet W., Robert Emmett, James Melvin, Luella Annie Moore, Thomas Fisher, William Luther and Sallie.

"Luella married Fount Britten Smith. Children, Luella Kate, Helen Odelle, Zula Mae, Evie Clare, Fount Britten, Susie Vic, Harriett Elizabeth and George Walker Dewey.

"William Pepper Dixon married Lilly Lavinia Tucker, daughter of Everett Jones and Virginia Atkinson Tucker. Their children were Samuel William Tucker, Virginia Elizabeth, Sim James, Johnny Lawrence, Lillian Lavinia, Lena Melissa, Ivey, Ida May, Edward Henderson and Thalia."

Subject: Jordan genealogy of Yazoo Co MS

Date: Sunday, December 14, 2003 11:37 PM

I saw on genforum where you were looking into the Jordans of Yazoo Co MS. This was 2000, and you may have your answers by now.

Were you aware that in 1862 Gerrian N. Jordan shot his overseer, Albert G. Bennett? This may or may not have contributed to the need of Gerrian to leave the area. Bennet died, but I do not have access to anything like newspapers or criminal records to see if there were repercussions from this.

Also, there was the Civil War in this time period. If Gerrian went north, the split may have been over differences in the war. It divided a lot of families.

I am looking for the identity of the Susan Jordan who married Allen King 7 Mar 1857 in Yazoo. I noticed your Gerrian had a daughter named Susan, and so perhaps my Susan is a sister to your Gerrain???? There was a Rhoda Jordan getting married there to Benjamin E. Plunkett in 1857. Susan JORDAN King named her first daughter Rhoda Catharine, and William Cox was the bondsman for both the marriage of Rhoda and Susan. I haven't found Susan on an 1850 census with her family. Any help or advice you could give in that direction would be greatly appreciated. A James B. Jordan m Permelia E. Wallace in 1855. They seem to be the only Jordans in the early records in Yazoo.

Thanks for any help you can give,
Evelyn

German Jordan, i guess my Great Great Grandfather on my Skakel side, went to Mississippi to operate a large plantation, probably grew cotton, and returned to Jordan Springs just before outbreak of Civil war. There is one mention of Jordan Springs as being at site of Greenbrier, but another, probably more accurate putting it nearby Winchester...

"Aunt mary once told me that he had the most beautiful hands for a man that she had ever seen." --Harry Baker Jordan...

Harry Baker Jordan's father told him that our common ancestor was burried in the old churchyard at Jamestown Island, Virginia...Harry thought he remembered seeing the grave there, but it cannot be seen now, though there are a number of graves where the markings have worn off with time...

Harry says that this man, Samuel Jordan came to the island about 1620, and later moved to a nearby plantation, and that it is possible that we connect to him by one of three sons that arrived shortly after his arrival...

He apparently lived in Silver Creek, which is in Lawrence County, Mississippi...his wife died after a trip to Vicksburg and bad weather and a bout of pneumonia.

He, and apparently his siblings recieved slaves for inheritance, he never did any work, and was "very proud of his hands."

Mary Roach "beautiful Mary Roach," his first wife, was an heiress. the old Plantation in Mississippi, Tallulah plantation, was hers. Granfather Jordan inherited it when he died.

Grandmother Sarah Virginia Hendricks Jordan also was an heiress. Her father, a small dapper person was a wealthy man. all of these people were slave holders.

Grandmother was educated at Mrs. Willards female institute in Troy NY Aunt Sue said the same school was still in existance, but under a different name...Aunt Sue said it advertised in the National Geographic, Grandfather met Grandmother on a Mississippi steamboat when she was returning either to or from school.

Uncle Ed Jordan "i believe" inherited Jordan White Sulphur Springs"

Macedonia, an early farm community west of present Granger, with school, church, gin, small store. Masonic Lodge was petitioned for in 1874 by J. W. McHorse, S. B. Kendall, Elias M. Queen, J. M. Anderson, J. A. Denson, James Wright, M. T. Hawkins and Daniel Hogan. The Macedonia Lodge No. 443 was later moved to Granger. An early church on Opossum Creek was organized in 1855, probably near Macedonia, members at that early date being the Thomas Gardner, Isaac Wilson, David Staunton, Beauford Bybee, Robbins, Guthrie, Rucker, Willis, Everette, Hughs, Parsons, Dilano and Jesse Brookshire families. In the 1870s, a number of German families moved to the community. Macedonia Baptist and Methodist churches were organized at least by the 1880s. Camp meetings were held on the banks of Opossum Creek west of the church and cemetery. Louis Taylor built a gin there about 1885, later owned by Harvey Denson; Mr. Lyda and Mr. Vitek were also associated with it. A Grange association was formed by Macedonia farmers to handle their produce, with Jess Denson as president, J. M. and Harvey Denson, associates, and Jim Barnett, manager. As Granger developed, Macedonia churches, school and gin disappeared. School consolidated with Palacky in 1949. Today only a large cemetery marks the location of the village. Reverend J. W. McHorse, one of the founders of the Masonic Lodge at Macedonia, was a veteran of the Battle of San Jacinto.

23. ROBERT CAMPBELL⁶ BULL (AMBROSE CARROLL⁵, JAMES HOGAN⁴, AMBROSE³, ROBERT², THOMAS SR.¹) was born September 23, 1847 in Near Monticello, Mississippi or 09/25/1847 in Ashley Co, AR, and died December 07, 1913 in Keller, Carter County, Oklahoma. He married MAHALA ELIZABETH EPLEY August 01, 1866 in Lampasas County, Texas, daughter of GEORGE EPLEY and ELIZABETH SPANGLER. She was born May 24, 1850 in Missouri, and died July 14, 1938 in Saint Jo, Montague County, Texas.

Notes for ROBERT CAMPBELL BULL:

From Barbara Lee Jernigan Stanford Fowler as per stories provided by ex-husband, Wayne Stanford, mother from the Samuel Floyd Bull family reunions in Texas.

Robert pre-empted land on Prescott Creek where they settled in the lower valley of the Colorado River in TX. A log cabin was built to live in. The logs could not be fitted together so the chinks were filled with a mortar made of clay or mud. When summer came, the mortar was removed to allow the air to enter. A window was made by sawing a square hole in the logs. In the winter or rainy weather the opening was boarded up with animal skins. There was a large fireplace in one end of the cabin which was used for heating and cooking.

Many of their children were born in this cabin. Later a house was built of lumber which was still standing in 1963.

HUSBAND'S NOTES: Robert Campbell BULL

Robert also raised cattle but did little farming except grain for bread. The country was open range and the cattle had to be rounded up for branding. He was away much of the time on roundups or with the Texas Rangers. (Annie Bull Miller)

At a young age, Robert enlisted in the Confederate Army. However, the Civil War came to an end before he was sent to active service.

Robert and his twin, Sarah, were about 4 years old at the time of their mother's death so Robert was brought up by his stepmother. He had four brothers and four sisters and two half brothers. His father acquired a large plantation in Arkansas and owned many Negro slaves. Young Robert enjoyed their singing so much that he would slip away from the house and go to the fields just to listen to them. As a small boy, he like to play with the little Negro children. He and his brothers were permitted to roam about and play with them all week until on Sunday morning when his stepmother would round up all the little "white Negroes" for a good scrubbing. He grew fond of the little Colored children and, in later years, told many stories of "me and the other little Negroes."

In about 1859, the family moved to Texas pulled by teams of oxen. The family settled in an unorganized territory which later became know as Mills County. This vicinity was still being visited by Indian raiding parties. Until 1850 this territory had been the happy hunting grounds of the Commanche and Apache Indians.

The cabin built by Robert's father was located on a large creek near some springs of water. It was sparcely settled and it is believed that there were no schools in the area. Robert's stepmother, Eliza Jane, was a school teacher. She probably taught the children reading, writing and little arithmetic.

WIFE'S NOTES: Mahala Elizabeth EPLEY

Author of Mahala's notes was an unknown grandchild of Mahala.

Mahala Elizabeth Epley was born May 24, 1850 in Missouri. She was the daughter of George and Eliza Epley. Eliza was born Sept 13, 1820 and died Sept 9, 1875.

She was buried in Mills County. Dates of the birth and death of George (Epley) have not been established. He remarried after Eliza's death and moved from Mills County. He died and was buried elsewhere. At one time George owned some land east of what is now the town of Goldthwaite. The land was in the area of a low mountain range. Legend has it that once Mexican treasure was buried somewhere in the vicinity where he lived. This treasure is said to have been gold bullion, and many men have hunted for it through the years.

George and Eliza Epley's children were: Mahala Elizabeth who married Robert C. Bull, Mary who married either Dave or Bob Joy, Nancy who married the other Joy, Sarah who married John Keith, Jennie who married John Hancock, Martha who married Jack Fisher, Daniel who married ? Nyles, and Sam whose wife was Mary Niles or Nyles.

Sam (Epley) was born June 19, 1838, died May 25, 1874 and is buried in Mohler cemetery near where his mother was buried a short time later. He was killed in an accident while rounding up stray cattle.

Jennie died young and left two little boys.

Sarah's family lived in Raton, NM. She died long before Grandmother Mahala Elizabeth died.

The Joys lived in NM or Colorado, Aunt Annie believes. She remembers when she was a little girl, her mother, Mahala Elizabeth, received a letter from Aunt Mary (Epley) telling of her youngest son dying. She doesn't remember if he was killed in a coal mine or if they were just living in a mining town at the time.

The following accounts and stories of the Epley family were given to me (Mrs. Stanford) by Aunt Annie: (I think this is Annie Bull Pollock. BJB 1999)

"I never saw any of Mother's sisters except Aunt Martha nor know any of their families. I know she wasn't very fond of Aunt Nancy. She said Nancy was always planning some mishcief and getting her and Martha into trouble then lying herself out of it. She said Grandpa (Epley) would say Nancy was the most obedient child he had. Mother said she was the biggest liar he had."

" Mother loved Uncle Sam (Epley) but didn't think so much of Uncle Daniel. My brother, Floyd (S.F. Bull), was always so full of mischief, Dad used to say that he was just like Daniel-buthe wasn't. Uncle Daniel drank a lot. He came by our house once from Goldthwaite where he had been to a saloon, I suppose. He was so drunk he could scarcely walk. Mother made a pallet for him on the north end of the porch at our old home place. After a while he got sick and vomitted all over everything near. Mother went out and said, 'Dan'l, aren't you ashamed of yourself?' He said, 'No, Lizzie, I'm not ashamed of anything I do.' This made Mother furious.

"Grandfather Epley died after moving from Mills County. the Old Lady (as Mother always called her stepmother) shipped his trunk back to Uncle Daniel after he moved to Oklahoma so Dad paid the shipping charge on it which was four dollars. It contained Grandfather's old hat. Still, Mother brought the trunk to Montague County when we moved there.

"My Grandma, Mahala Elizabeth Epley Bull, was a small woman; short, stocky built, a woman with much pride and a car for personal appearance. As she grew older, she disliked her graying hair, and many times I have watched her apply hair coloring even at the age of seventy five or more. This was a number of years ago when effective hair coloring was hard to procure. So Grandma ordered from magazine advertisements and such, but, nevertheless, the gray hairs were kept fairly well hidden.

"Grandma loved bright gay colors and wore them though older people wore more subdued colors at that time. She always wore rouge and face powder, but how we all adored her!

"She came to stay with us, as far back as I can remember, for periods of several months at a time. Along with her came a huge trunk and a fat feather bed. Her trunk always held a fascination for me. I always enjoyed the times when she would put her things in order as I would be permitted to seed to the bottom of it. When I was a young girl, Grandma's soft feather bed afforded a nice cozy place for me to snuggle down in on a cold winter night.

" No child could have had a more enjoyable companion than Grandma Bull was to me. She and I used to take long strolls in the woods. When we were tired from walking, we would sit down to rest under a shade tree or near the little creek which wound its way through our pasture. Here she told many stories to me about the family."

CHILDREN'S NOTE:

Robert and Mahala had 15 children. Five died as babies. The second child, Jimmie, died at the age of three. A stranger came to their house one day who was ill with a contagious disease. Two of the children, Jimmie and Alice, contracted the disease. Jimmie died but Alice recovered.

I will try to post the verses to you. I don't know how well it will work as they were in pencil. The reason my grandfather got sick and died with pneumonia was he went up to Carter County to help his father with cattle and the weather was horrible and he got very sick and did manage to get back to Montague County. The Dr. gave him some medicine that my grandmother always said killed him as what ever it was not given with pneumonia. He was the true love of her life. She and Uncle Floyd had a good life together in latter years and he was very good to her and her children seemed to like her as well. I guess that made my dad have double cousins. They were all very nice people as I remember going to Bishop, Tx as a child to visit and going to the Padre Island to swim.

Subject: Bull Family in Texas
Date: Monday, January 31, 2005 11:59 AM

Dear Mr. Bull,

Hi, I am a descendant of the Bull family from Goldthwaite Texas. My Father was Marshall Middleton Miller.....his Mother was Annie Lacey Bull.....her Father was Samuel Middleton Bull.....his Father was Ambrose Carroll Bull.....his Father was James Hogan Bull whose Father was Ambrose (Ambrous) Bull of North Carolina.

It has been so interesting to read about the history of this family.

I know quite a bit about my Grandmothers family from Goldthwaite but would like to know about a whole "other" family that Ambrose Carroll Bull had before he married his 2nd wife Eliza Jane Sparks. Would you know the name of his first wife and the names of their children. My Grandmother Annie Bull told me Ambrose Carroll's first family consisted of many sons and that most of them died in the civil war. That's all I know. Can you help?

Thanks,

Mary Elizabeth Miller Kraus

Hi Roger,

The man who owns the land (Mr. Masanec?) that holds the Mohler Cemetery, was told the story about my Great Grandmother- Emily Nell Booth Bull's heart-ache about her oldest son Ben's death. Mr. Masanec has been repeating, I'm sure innocently, an incorrect story involving Ambrose Carroll, who was dead by time Ben died, and his wife Eliza Bull.

Here is the correct story as told to me by my grandmother Annie Bull Miller (sister of Ben).....Emily Booth Bull and Samuel Middleton Bull had 3 sons and 3 daughters of which Ben was the oldest son. They were cattle ranchers. On one cattle drive Sam made Ben, who was ill at the time, go with him, against Emily's wishes. She told him if anything happened to Ben that she would never forgive him. Ben died and Emily could not get over it. She would stand at the window and look out at the snow and cry the her son was buried beneath it. She and Sam got a divorce, which at the time was not a usual thing. He gave her a large settlement and she left all of her children and moved to San Antonio. My Father told me that she opened some sort of establishment that took care of horses.....but I'm not sure about that. When she returned to visit her children there were two gates she had to cross before she came to the main house which was located on a bend in the Colorado River. My grandmother said she could be heard crying as she got to the first gate and when she got to the second gate she was almost hysterical. After she moved to San Antonio, she married again but had no other children. When she died (and was buried in the "Old Mission Cemetery" in San Antonio) her son John had her gravestone engraved with the name Emily Nell Booth Bull (not the married name she died with). Ben's Father Sam had the Obelisk made and installed on top of the head stone. Time and weather toppled it and it was found on the ground close by. It's a very sad story for our family. My Grandmother Annie was left without her Mother and it was just a very difficult time for all of them. The remaining siblings grew very close and relied on each other a great deal.

Hope this clears things up?

Thanks,

Mary

Also.....Myrtle Bull Day, Ben's sister is buried in the Mohler cemetery. She was the oldest daughter and died in childbirth. There are also several Bull Infants buried there. I visited the cemetery about 5 years ago. I only wish it was on public land.

Someone (George, Willie or Joe) reminded me to look at death dates of Ambrose Carroll Bull and Ben Bull. I believe that puts the family traditional story of Ben's death out of the timeline. It would seem that another more likely description is in order.... Could it be that Eliza Jane had her grandson buried next to them?

Dear Roger and cousins,

My warmest regards and kind thanks to my cousin Mary Kraus for the information regarding our great grandmother, Emily Booth. My grandfather, Samuel Earl Bull, the brother of Mary's grand mother, Annie Bull Miller, left Texas, and much family information, too, apparently, behind. I have been told that she married a man by the name of Tejas, but have no hard information to corroborate. Mary, I would like to inform you that there is a book called "The History of Gisela", by Jayne Peace, that contains pictures of the Booth family, though none of Emily, but her sister Susan, two brothers, John and Zach, her parents C. F. Booth and his wife, our g.g.grandmother, Marcella, Lovey Bull Booth, the last daughter of Sarah Maxwell and Ambrose C. Bull, as well as her sister Sarah Bull Hickcox and family, etc., plus a sketch of their emigration from central Texas in 1883, through New Mexico to Gisela Arizona in 1887. And more. Anyone interested in purchasing this book can order it from, " Git A Rope! Publishing, Inc. P.O.Box 2099, Payson, Arizona, 85547". It should cost about 25 $ and is well worth it for those interested in this family.

Mary, my list of the children of Samuel Middleton Bull are:

Ben
Charles Edward
Samuel Earl
John
Myrtle
Annie
Pauline
Peter Paul

Do you have dates? I have only a few. Also, do you have a picture of Ambrose Carrol Bull? I know of none, but, of course, if you haven't yet thoroughly combed Roger's site, you may find there a photo of Eliza Jane Sparks and others on the veranda of their ranch home in Lampasas.

A precious one from us is gone.
The voice we loved is stilled.
A place is vacant in our home...
That never can be filled.

"We miss the sushine of thy face.
The loving tender care.
Our home is dark without thee.
We miss thee everywhere."

of writing.)

Dear Roger,

Just came across your web site by pure accident. As you have no doubt heard all to many times, I too belong to the the strain of Bulls addressed in your wonderful 19 pages of references. Unfortunately, I have no information of the type you seek. Further, I feel sure I have nothing new to add to your data other than some references I once copied out of the Mills County, and Lampasas County land records some years ago. Also a few old photos - maybe?

My name is Norman Springer Bull.

B: Los Angeles, CA 8 May 1931

My father was Philon Bull
B: Goldthwaite, TX 23 March 1889

His father was John Franklin Bull
B: Arkansas (?) 25 September 1856
Mother: Susan Adaline Bagely

And as I am sure you already know, John Franklin was the second son (and last child) of Ambrose Bull and his second wife Eliza Jane Sparks.

So, that is where I come into the Bull family. I will be sending your Web site on to my sister, son and daughter and thus, grandchildren (ages 15-25).

I very much look forward to reading/reviewing all the wonderful work people have researched and contributed to the Bull family site.

Sincerely,
Norm

Dear Roger,
Thanks again for connecting the families. I have just seen where Mr. Norman Bull has discovered your site and would like to say hello to him and his family. I had just received a letter from my uncle, Clovis Bull, who observed that I never mention the family of John Franklin Bull. I was just poised, pen in hand, to respond that that is simply because I know virtually nothing about them, when they now appear, as though beckoned, to be coming down the road and into view. I certainly am looking forward to learning what interesting things they have discovered since leaving Texas for that Arizona/ New Mexico border land. I would love to see a photo of John Franklin, his wife and children. I am told that Addie was a wonderful person and their daughter Agness the most beautiful woman in Arizona. I know that Dexter farmed in the Tonto region of Arizona and that his son Alfred graduated from the high school in Payson, returning to Gisela to retire. His sisters may yet live in Globe.

Cordially,

Lee Barkley

Roger,

In all the pictures in the two volumes you sent I do not remember seeing a picture of the Confederate Monument in the front of the Mills County, Texas Court House listing two of Ambrose's sons by his first marriage, one that served in a Texas calvary unit and I am not sure what kind of unit the other served in. Also, inside that Court house exist numerous recorded land deals by Ambrose when he first came to Texas and the final transfer of the Bull's Creek property to my Grandfather, the youngest of all his children with the consent of his older brother Sam and all his half brothers and sisters. Of course, it was all sold in 1916 just before the great 1917 boom in the beef market. Bad timing. My Grandfather then got set up in South East Arizona just in time for the Pancho Via border raids.

Also, when I was growing up (Southern Calif) I used to see Charles Edward Bull from time-to-time (1939-1950). He was frequently at our house on holidays and always at family reunions. He had a Real Estate business in near by Whittier. I remember him repeating the Civil War stories he had heard as child from half uncles and others. How he loved to strike his Lincoln pose when a camera came out. We had a older lady friend of the family who had seen him perform at the Chicago Worlds Fair in 1933? In 1950 he attempted to gain entry for me into the Naval Academy via an old friend who was then the publisher of the Los Angeles Daily News. I don't know what happened to that effort. The last time I spent time with him was in late 1955 at my folk's (Philon and Mary) house in Maywood, CA., a suburb of Los Angeles.

Thanks,
Norm

Roger,

I think you can call the following official and probably repeats some of your data. I grew up with it and have also confirmed it years ago with Philon and from material saved from the Mills County Court House fire of (?).

All children of John Franklin Bull and Susan Adaline Bagely, all born in Goldthwaite, Texas on the following dates, in the following order:

Dexter, March 3, 1887 (saw him maybe twice in 1930S)

Philon, March 23, 1889 (My sister and I both belive he is perhaps the man in the picture, rear on the left. She is sure! She says the right rear man is Ambose. I don't know.

Ross, January 21, 1891 (met a couple of times in 1940s)

Ambrose, January 21, 1893 (saw once or twice in 1930/40s)

Agnes Lee March 7, 1895

Joe Brown, march 12, 1897 (saw him and family once a year at least. His children were about the same age as Barbara and Norman))

John Franklin, Jr. February 12, 1900, died as an infant, buried Joy-Mohler

Thomas Ogden, January 10, 1902 (knew him well)

Vida May, May 22, 1904

Morgan Bagely, December 18, 1906 (visited frequently, fished and hunted with him often)

Lorene Hettie, August ?, 1909 (saw her a few times, lived very near Morgan in 1930s/40s)

Hope this helps.
Regards,
Norm

Dear Roger, Stephanie, and Norm,

I don't know these men either but will send this copy to my uncle Clovis, who knew them somewhat when he was a child. I'm sure it will take a while no matter what the verdict is but, in the mean time, does Norm think the older gentleman somewhat resembles his father? How about Dexter or even John Franklin? What are some possibilities? Also, Stephanie, that wasn't much of a note on the back of the photo. Did you send the whole thing? And, who got the old family photos? That was a big family and someone probably got the lions share of them. My cousin Maryann has a couple of images of one or two of those boys and I have sent pics of Morgan and Ogden along (who don't resemble these fellers), but whoever was the last to have contact with John Franklin or Addie will likely have given the pictures to their children. Right? And think of the family order: Wasn't Dexter the first? Then who? I think the boy in front is the youngest, then Ambrose, then the one to his right, and the man in front, at left, clearly older by ten to fifteen years. How about, Dexter, Ambrose, Philon and Joe Brown?

I think I saw somewhere in the Bull data that you had not located the parents of Susan Ellison, who married David King Bull. I believe that the information below includes her and her parents:

Page 510, 1850 Yazoo County, MS census:

Thomas P. Ellison Head of household Age 40 Born TN Planter

Mary Ellison Wife Age 35 Born AL

Belinda Ellison Dau Age 14 Born MS

Susan Ellison Dau Age 11 Born MS
 William Ellison Son Age 10 Born MS
 Thomas Ellison Son Age 7 Born MS
 Julia A. Ellison Dau Age 5 Born MS
 Mary Ellison Dau Age 2 Born MS
 Caroline Ellison Age 1 Born MS

Since Susan was born in 1839, it appears that this is the right family.

Mahala Elizabeth Epley and Robert Campbell Bull are my GG Grandparents. I have copies of all census records from 1870, 1880, 1900 and 1910. I have a copy of the widow's application for a pension for Mahala Elizabeth (Epley) Bull. Their daughter Martha (Mattie as I knew her) Bull married William Miles Posey on 23 Sept 1893 (I have a copy of the marriage license); and copies of their death certificates. I remember my Great Grandmother Mattie; and did attend her funeral in 1969. I do have her application for social security number; which names her parents Elizabeth Epley and Robert Campbell Bull. There are several people online stating in their genealogy that Mattie's sister Mary Isabell Bull married William Miles Posey; and this is incorrect. Mary Isabell Bull died before 1880 in TX (infact, she died March of 1875 and is buried in Mohler Cemetery, on the Eastside of Mills County, TX). Furthermore; I find no documentation stating that my Great Grandfather William Miles Posey was William Miles Gilbert Posey. My Grandpa (Robert Olen Posey) never mentioned his father being William Miles Gilbert Posey; but only by William Miles Posey. Please inform others to make corrections.

Thanks,
Danny Shadrick

Mr. Bull' My name is Bob Hedrick. I've only recently started to trace my family names, however Ive run into a dead end at my grandfather, Clarence Charles Hedrick, Because his two sons that are living don't remember their grandparents names. Information on Roots Web.com and other sites show that Clarence Charles Hedrick married Cora Ella Bull but he actually married my grandmother, Magnolia Bull and they had 7 children together including my father. I believe they were married in Mills County,Texas. I'm hoping that you know Clarence Hedrick's parents name. If so, will you email the names to me? I would very grateful.
Respectfully.Bob Hedrick

Chickens deserve their place in history, too

BACKTRACKIN'

By Jayne Peace Pyle, Rim Review columnist

Wednesday, June 2, 2004

In the history of the Tonto Basin, cows and horses have played a major role, as they were the main means of livelihood and transportation. They have been given credit for their roles in the settlement of the West, but it seems that chickens have been left out.

Few wagons arrived in the Tonto Basin without a cage of chickens tied to the side or the top or even the bottom. The chickens rode wherever there was room. Pioneers brought chickens with them so they would have a "start" when they got here. Soft-boiled eggs was a baby's first food. Eggs made rich custards and were excellent barter items. Chicken soup was looked upon as a cure for everything, and fried chicken was great for Sunday dinner, especially if a family was celebrating or had company. So chickens have their place in history.

Fowl also provided some entertainment for folks -- and in at least one instance, played Cupid.

Anna Mae Deming said the first time she ever went out with her husband, Jimmy Deming, was after a Payson High School graduation.

"We went down below where the Payson Golf Course is now," said Anna Mae. "When we got out of the car, the guys asked the girls to cook the chickens (they'd brought with them). Since my mother had died and I had assumed the role of mother, in our home, I knew how to cook the chickens -- I was the only one, too! I told them to skin the chickens, then I cut them up and fried them. Someone had brought a can of grease and some salt. A few days later, a Mr. Franklin approached Jimmy Deming and dunned him $2 each for the two old hens (we'd eaten that night). They certainly were not worth that much, but they were his hens. The next weekend, Jimmy asked me to go to a dance at Gisela and that was it. We were married July 15, 1933 at the natural bridge."

When Henry "Pappy" and Sarah "Mammy" Haught reached the White Mountains on their way into Arizona Territory, they had to stop for a day or two so Mammy could have a baby. Her daughter, Ida "Sis" Haught Martin, told me that she remembered the event well. "Us kids were happy to get out of the wagon to play, but chickens were turned out of their cage, too, but we had to take turns herding them."

The baby, Irene Million Champion Haught, was born Aug. 10, 1897. Her daughter is Marty McDaniel of Payson.

What impressed me was that even though Sis was only 6 years old at the time of Million's birth, some 90 years later she still remembered having to herd the chickens while her mother labored to have a baby.

Helyn Chilson Conway tells this in her Chilson family history: "When my Grandma Platt (Margaret Ann Birchett Chilson Platt) was moving to Marysville (three miles west of Payson) in 1881, she had all her chickens in coops on top of the loaded wagon. On the back of the wagon was three barrels of sour mash. One of the wheels got caught on a big rock and the wagon turned over, breaking open all the coops. The chickens just went everywhere. She said she knew she would never catch her chickens, but in a while they started eating the sour mash and before long she just picked them up. But before they passed out, she said they were a funny, drunk bunch. The hens were flapping their wings and trying to crow like roosters."

This is the only story I know about drunk chickens, but undoubtedly, there were more, as a lot of Texas pioneers liked their sour mash and when they got too much of it, were prone to turn over wagons.

My great-grandmother, Ellen Neal, lived to be 98 years old and she told me things that happened on their trip to Arizona Territory. In her story, published in "The Pioneer Women of Gila County Volume I," I wrote: "She wore a high-crowned cowboy hat to shade her face from the sun, not a sunbonnet as many women wore at the time. A cage of chickens was tied to the side of the wagon and two milk cows were tied on behind." Then, "After another five or six hours of travel, they stopped for the night. The chickens were turned out of their cage to eat greens, then penned again." The chickens were cared for because they were needed for eggs and meat.

If you have raised chickens, you know that chickens are not easy to catch. Catching them when they go to roost is the easiest way. But each day when the wagon stopped, the chickens were let out of their cage to eat, then caught and penned for the night so no skunks, bobcats or other critters would kill them. They had to be kept safe.

One amazing thing is that the chickens laid eggs while bound to moving wagons in cages. At the beginning of the trip, they wouldn't lay, but after they got used to the jostling and bumping, they settled in and laid eggs -- something very precious on the trips West. Chickens that survived the trip from Texas to Arizona Territory were pretty tough chickens -- and many made it. Pioneering chickens.

Women, being nurturers, grew attached to their chickens. After all, the hens gave them eggs for their little ones and succumbed to death by the wringing of the neck if a family ran out of food. They were a precious commodity.

My mother, Anna Mae Hale Peace, had a special place in her heart for her chickens. She named each hen and was protective of their young. A skunk or a bobcat was always killing one of the hens, so mom kept the little chicks in a box on our kitchen table until they were big enough to fend for themselves. I remember watching them huddle close to a jar full of warm water which took the place of their mother. At mealtime, mom moved the box of chickens to the couch. Once, one of our dogs killed one of the baby chicks in the house. Mom sent the dog to a place he would never be able to hurt a chicken again.

I guess women have always been protectors of their chickens, but I am a little amazed at this story: During Reconstruction in the southern states, a woman armed with a musket marched 10 unarmed Rebels into a Cumberland Mountain camp. She claimed the men had killed all her chickens. Enough was enough. She had hidden their weapons as they feasted and then took on the whole bunch. Forced to kill one man, the others surrendered meekly. She had been pushed out of her home, had endured many hardships, but when they killed her chickens ... she used her gun.

Dr. Roy Wilson came to Payson in 1906. Like all country doctors, he took many things in trade for his medical services. He received a frantic call from rancher, Albert Booth, who had ridden hell-bent-for-leather from Gisela to Payson in the rain to get the good doctor to help his wife who was in labor and having problems.

Dr. Wilson rode through rain and mud, arriving just before dark at the Booth home. Albert's brother, Ambrose Booth, fed the doctor's horse, and his mother, Lovey, fried "hog meat" for the doctor. A husky boy was born at midnight. He was named Frank.

It was well into the next day before the doctor finished his care and started for home. When payment time came, Albert told the doc that he had had a poor calf crop that year and wanted to know if he would take chickens for payment. Dr. Wilson asked him how many chickens he had. Albert replied, "about 50." The doctor said he would take half of them, but the Booths would have to deliver them to Payson. Albert agreed. Ambrose built a cage in the bed of a wagon, then captured the chickens and stuffed them in it. He delivered the chickens as promised. The doctor was seldom paid in money. He had accepted cattle, horses and whiskey, but this was the first time he was paid in chickens.

Undoubtedly, the descendants of the pioneering chickens still live in Gila County today.

Subject: Bull Family in Texas

Date: Monday, January 31, 2005 11:59 AM

Dear Mr. Bull,

Hi, I am a descendant of the Bull family from Goldthwaite Texas. My Father was Marshall Middleton Miller.....his Mother was Annie Lacey Bull.....her Father was Samuel Middleton Bull.....his Father was Ambrose Carroll Bull.....his Father was James Hogan Bull whose Father was Ambrose (Ambrous) Bull of North Carolina.

It has been so interesting to read about the history of this family.

I know quite a bit about my Grandmothers family from Goldthwaite but would like to know about a whole "other" family that Ambrose Carroll Bull had before he married his 2nd wife Eliza Jane Sparks. Would you know the name of his first wife and the names of their children. My Grandmother Annie Bull told me Ambrose Carroll's first family consisted of many sons and that most of them died in the civil war. That's all I know. Can you help?

Thanks,

Mary Elizabeth Miller Kraus

Roger,
Another interesting fact about the cemetery is that there are shells found around that graves. Mary Ann Miller Smith, daughter of Annie Bull Miller, (and my Aunt), said that when the families would do a cemetery clean up, all of the children were sent to the Colorado River, which was not far away, with buckets, to gather shells and decorate their family members graves. You can find them scattered around. I brought one home to my Father, Marshall Middleton Miller (Annie Bull Miller's son) before he died and he was so very proud of
it. It brought back so many wonderful memories for him.
Thanks for letting me share,
Mary

MY FAMILY

By Judy Dalton Wigley

June 1994

My grandmother, Elva (Long) Moreland's great grandfather, Ambrose Bull, journeyed from old Mississippi to Arkansas, and from the family plantation in Arkansas to pioneer days in Texas. He brought with him several Negro slaves and settled on a large creek now known as Bull's Creek, in what became Mills County. Here quite a bit of land was cleared and brought into cultivation so that the "darkies" could be profitably employed in producing crops.

Ambrose (B. 1806 - D. 1890) married Sarah Maxwell Bull. Nine children were born to this union. One of these was Robert Campbell Bull, my great-great grandfather.

Robert C. (Bob) Bull (B. 1847 - D. 1913) and Mahalia Elizabeth Bull (B. 1850 - D. 1938) had 15 children. Their third child, Sarah Alice (B. 1872 - D. 1968), was my great-grandmother.

Sarah Alice or Grannie Long as I called her, was born in the Colorado River area around the Lower Big Valley community, on October 27, 1872. She married Johnny William Long August 22, 1889. They had seven children of which one died in infancy. Their names were Cordelia Long Burdett, Ann Dovie Long Roberts (whom I never met) Henry Travis Long, Jame Bowie Long, Thelma Long Booker and my grandmother Elva Long Moreland.

Aunt Delia & Dove were born in Montague County. Bowie and Travis were born in San Saba County and Elva and Thelma were born at the old home place in Mills Co.

Grannie Long lived with her son Bowie, in a small white framed house next door to the old family home where her children were raised. Her other son Travis and his family lived in that old house until just a few years ago. Both houses are still standing and are located about five miles out from Goldthwaite on the Priddy highway.

She was everything a "Grannie" should be. She wore an apron and would put on a homemade bonnet when she went out in the sun. She made my sister and me one of those bonnets. She used cardboard from rick rack packages for the slats or body of the bonnet. They were hot but I loved mine because she made it.

Every time my mother took me to see Grannie Long, I went right up to her and asked if she had any cake, pie or ice cream. I remember she always laughed and my mother would tell me to mind my manners, but she always had something for me. This is how I learned to love raisin pie. To this day I have not eaten one that was as good as hers.

I remember seeing her go to the chicken house, feed the chickens and gather eggs. What really fascinated me was seeing her catch a chicken, wring its neck and after it flopped around a while, she would skin it, cut it up and fry it for dinner. The chicken was nearly as good as the raisin pie. It sounds really bad now, but that was the way it was done.

On several occasions, I can remember seeing her make lye soap. I do not remember how she made it, but I do know it was placed in a large black pot over a fire in the back yard. I remember her stirring it and, after it cooled, cutting it in bars.

I was raised in town so all these farm things were treats for me. We bought chicken at the grocery store and usually Mother had them cut it up because she did not like to. I learned at an early age to cut up a chicken for that reason.

Grannie Long was very upset when the Priddy highway was widened and several large trees were cut down to make room. The entrance to her property was left at a higher entry level. She knew it was progress but it still bothered her. I am sure she knew that the place would never look the same again.

Over the years Bowie made notes and wrote short stories of tales his mother told him about her family and early childhood. These are priceless to all her children now. One story he wrote about I remember hearing her tell. It was about "The Hanging Tree" that was located in the back pasture. Every time we drove out in that pasture she took us to that old tree and told the story her father had told her. It seems her Grandfather Bull and two other cowboys were searching for stray cows and found two Indians and a white man hanging from a large tree. They learned that the men had been caught stealing horses and were hung on the spot, as was often done in those days. I can remember her standing under the old tree and pointing up to the large branches and telling the story.

For a time Grannie Long's father belonged to the Texas Rangers. He was often called away from home on some special duty, leaving his family at home. They were somewhat afraid during these times, as there was still trouble with the Indians.

Grannie Long lived through the pioneer days of Mills County, as at the time of her birth in 1872, Mills County had not been organized as a county and Goldthwaite had not been established.

She was present when the first railway train came into Goldthwaite; on this occasion the first lots for the establishment of the town were sold. There was quite a celebration at this time with people there from the surrounding area.

My great grandmother lived from ox wagon days until the beginning of the space age. So much happened that changed our lives forever during the 95 years of her life.

Elva (Long) Moreland was born October 20, 1906. My sister and I have affectionately always called her Elva, not Grandmother. Her younger granddaughters call her Grandmother and my children call her Grannie Elva. She answers to all. Elva has two children Allen Moreland married to Anna Gene Hale and my mother Robbie Louise, who is married to Larry Dalton. Four granddaughters, Charlotte Dalton, Becky Moreland, Susan Moreland Reynolds and me, Judy Dalton Wigley. Two great-grandsons, Jamey Wigley and John Allen Reynolds. One great-granddaughter Regina Wigley died in 1985.

Elva, as most people in the area know her, started working as a private nurse to Dr. M. A. Childress in August of 1949. During the years she assisted in delivering hundreds of newborn babies including two of her own great grandchildren. She also gave thousands of "shots." At her retirement party, January 13, 1986, after 37 years of nursing, it was said "Her contribution to the health and welfare of this community is immeasurable." Elva received recognition as outstanding Mills County Senior Citizen in 1986.

My grandfather was Carl (Cappy) Moreland (B. 1/18/04 - D. 5/14/73). His father I.T. Moreland (B. 2/24/1851 - D. 7/1/25) and mother Emma Shuff (B. 8/10/1857 - D. 12/18/06), five sisters and three brothers, lived in the Pleasant Grove community of Mills County. I remember going out to Lake Meritt for Moreland family reunions. The part I remember most was there were a lot of kids to play with and more food than we could eat. We always had family group pictures. Aunt Virginia (Bailey), my grandfather's sister, tried in her small way to keep the family together. After all the old timers died it got harder and harder. I can remember knowing that Aunt Virginia loved us and her family was very important to her. My great grandmother Moreland died when my grandfather was two years old and Aunt Virginia and the other girls raised him. I know that is why she always tried to stay close to our family.

Robbie married Lawrence Edward (Larry) Dalton September 2, 1942. I was born in 1944 in Vancouver, Washington, and my sister, Charlotte Louise, was born in San Saba, in 1949.

In 1964, Dr. Childress and Dr. Cruzcosa had their first LVN class. Mother attended this school and practiced nursing for several years. Daddy owned Dalton Cleaners from as far back as I can remember. My sister, Charlotte, when someone asked what her name was, always said Charlotte Louise Dalton Cleaners. I am sure she heard Mom and Dad answer the telephone "Dalton Cleaners," and she thought that was our name. We have teased her a lot about that over the years.

When Daddy sold the Cleaners he continued for many years to do the steam pressing. I never learned how to "fix" blue jeans because Dad always pressed them for me. (This did not prepare me for marrying a cowboy whose mother starched his jeans so stiff that they could stand by themselves). After the Cleaners was resold to new owners, he decided it was time for a career change, so he went to work for the Texas Highway Department and retired after fourteen years. He now plays a lot of golf. Mother has a sign hanging in her kitchen that someone gave her after his retirement that says, "Retirement: Twice as much husband, Half as much money."

I have never traced the Dalton family further back than the Mullin community. I have told Dad on several occasions we probably do not want to know if we really were kin to the famous outlaws known as the Dalton Gang. Maybe someday I can find out for sure. I do know George Henry Dalton, my great-great-grandfather, was a sailor for many years, going to sea with an older brother at the age of 9 years. He was self taught, well educated man. He held the offices of Justice of the Peace, County Commissioner and later County Judge of Mills County (11/1898 - 12/1902). He bought his wife Mahalia Elizabeth Green (B. 1854 - D. 1944) the first sewing machine and the first cooking stove in their community. This meant no more cooking over the fireplace. He was also the first to ave barbed wire fences, for which his ranching neighbors probably opposed him. However they were mostly farmers in that area.

My great great-grandmother Mahalia's (Grandma Haley) as she was called) father was in the Civil War. His name is on the memorial at the Courthouse in Goldthwaite. His name was James Monroe Green.

My Dad's grandfather Ed Dalton died at the age of 35 from a stroke. This was in the fall of 1919. He was survived by three children. One was my grandfather Lawrence Earnest Dalton. My Grandmother was Alva McGowan Dalton (B. 8/26/1904 - D. 1959). They had one child, my father Lawrence Edward (Larry) Dalton (B. 1/10/23).

My dad was an only child raised by his mother and grandmother Sallie Mae McCullough (B. 1881 - D. 1973). Due to the short life of Ed Dalton and the fact that my grandfather Dalton lived in California, we were never very close to the Dalton family.

Charlotte and I called our Grandmother Dalton, Muir. She managed the Economy Store for several years. It was located where Winn's store is now. On Saturdays I would go visit her at the store and most of the time I remember sitting on the front ledge of the window and reading Hudson Drug Store's comic books. I do not remember purchasing many books but Mr. Hudson never ran us off. She had several friends who loved to play cards. Charlotte and I both learned how to play cards going with her and her friends. Muir was always sewing, crocheting or knitting something. I learned how to sew because she always let me play with her sewing machine. She let me sew up all her old scraps. In the latter years of her life she worked at the Courthouse for County Treasurer and was an active member of the Eastern Star. She died in 1959, after a long battle with cancer.

Charlotte graduated from Goldthwaite High School in 1968. She graduated from the University of Texas - Austin in 1972 and later earned her Masters Degree in Education. She lived and taught in Austin since her graduation. Charlotte has done a lot of traveling. She has been to Australia, Hawaii, Africa, Europe and many other interesting places. Charlotte has always enjoyed camping, water and snow skiing and just being outdoors.

John Fisher and Effie Mae (Askew) Wigley's youngest son, James Ray (Jimmy) Wigley, and I were married June 23, 1962. We are both graduates of Goldthwaite High School and started dating when I was in the seventh and he was in the eighth grade. We have been married for 32 years and have two children. Jimmy has farmed and ranched all our married years. He has been in various farm related businesses, such as water well repair, sheep and goat drenching and shearing, fence building, purchasing wool and mohair for order buyers and what ever it takes to support his family. We have always enjoyed doing things together. I have helped with the plowing, drenching, well work and whatever else he was doing at the time. I have been employed by Dr. M. A. Childress and Dr. Tom Cody Graves. Having been in banking for twenty plus years, I have worked at Mills County State Bank and presently I am Vice President/Cashier at First National Bank in Goldthwaite.

Our daughter Regina Ann Wigley was born, October 26, 1965. She graduated from Goldthwaite High School in 1984. She was Homecoming Queen her junior year (1983), and a member of the 1981 girls track team that went to state in the 1600 meter relay. Both her junior and senior years Regina was voted the most popular girl of her class.

Regina was born one day short of Grannie Long's 93rd birthday. She was one of several great great-grandchildren Grannie was to enjoy before her death.

Regina died November 25, 1985, following a severe asthma attack. She was attending Tarleton State University in Stephenville. She is buried in the Goldthwaite Memorial Cemetery. She is not forgotten because she will live in our hearts forever.

James Ray (Jamey) Wigley, Jr. was born May 18, 1968, our second child. He graduated from Goldthwaite High School in 1986, and Angelo State University in 1990, with a B.B.A. in Business Management. He is the General Manager of Central Texas Wireless T.V., Inc. in Goldthwaite. This is a new company that Jamey has been able to help build from the beginning. It provides wireless cable T.V. service to people living in rural areas of Central Texas. Jamey married Shanna Covington on June 1, 1991. Shanna is a mail carrier and works out of the Mullin Post Office. She is the daughter of Earl & Barbara Covington.

HEMPSTEAD - Waller County commissioners rescinded action taken at the April 13 meeting which extended the hours of operation for a local liquor establishment.

The commissioners had previously granted the extension request by Trail's End to allow the sale of alcoholic beverages until 2 a.m.

Advertisement

County Judge Owen Ralston told the commissioners he discovered that the court could not grant extensions for individual businesses in the unincorporated areas of the county.

"I was told by the Texas Alcoholic Beverage Commission that this was not proper," he said. "TABC said we have to grant the extension for the whole county if we do it."

The commissioners decided to take no action on granting the county-wide extended hours for the sale of alcohol and tabled the matter.

A workshop will be held later to discuss the construction of a new Precinct 4 annex in the Brookshire area.

Precinct 4 Commissioner Louis Canales told the court that he has been working to get a new facility for about six years and it is needed badly. He asked Precinct 4 Justice of the Peace Ted Krenek to update the court on the condition of the present facility.

Krenek said the current facility was crowded and there was not adequate room, especially when trials were being held. He said the facility is so small, "everyone has to leave the room when the jury deliberates."

He said there is no room for storage of records, the air conditioning system does not work properly, there is no hot water and no privacy in the women's rest room.

He told the commissioners he has several jury trials each month and at that time, there is a problem with adequate parking spaces.

Canales presented two proposals from architectural firms for the initial design work - Dawsey Associates Architects and a firm whose name was not disclosed.

Ralston said there were two items that needed to be addressed before contracts were awarded.

"One is are we ready to build and two is to be sure we can afford it," the judge said. "I'd like to have a workshop to go over the proposals."

The commissioners approved, on a split vote, payment of expenses for Precinct 3 Justice of the Peace Dwayne Charleston to attend the JP and Court Personnel SCRA in Denton on May 10-11.

Commissioners Leroy Singleton of Precinct 1, Milton Whiting of Precinct 3 and Canales voted to approve the request.

Precinct 2 Commissioner Frank Pokluda voted against it.

The court denied a request from Charleston, again on a split vote, for payment of expenses to attend the JPCA Annual Education Conference in Houston June 5-9.

On the vote, Singleton and Whiting voted to allow repayment of expenses and Pokluda, Canales and Ralston voted against it.

Requests for reimbursement of expenses to attend required Continuing Education courses were approved for County Clerk Cheryl Peters, District Clerk Pat Spadachene, County Court At Law Judge June Jackson, District Attorney personnel Ross Macha and Bennie Zajicek, Juvenile Probation employee Edrick Smith and Tax Assessor-Collector Ellen Shelburne.

Commissioners also approved payment of fees for Road and Bridge employee Gary Eckerman to attend a "Troubleshooting Hyd-raulics" course in Houston and for three members of the Waller County Historical Commission to attend a Historic Preservation Conference to be held in Fort Worth on May 6-8.
